Boulder Discovery Trail rocks school holidays

The Boulder Discovery Trail was once again a hit with more than 120 kids taking part in the trail of discovery in down town Burt Street. Whether aged two or twelve, local or visiting town, the host of activities provided by Boulder businesses was enjoyed by kids and parents.

"The Boulder Discovery Trail is fantastic. It is value for money, fun, enjoyable and a great way to spend the day in Boulder. Many thanks". Commented a satisfied parent of two (20/4/07)

The glitter was pouring, the textas drawing and the kids a-laughing as they all tramped down Burt Street throughout the week of fun filled activities. All part of the fun, kids were naming the rabbits at Rascals and Sparkles, quizzing it at the Commonwealth Bank and un-jumbling the puzzle at Boulder's Leading Edge Videos as well as much more.

The pet rock making activity, held at the Super Pit Shop, proved very popular with much thought put into the cats, dogs, clowns, mice and monsters that walked out in the hands of their creative new owners.

*"Rocks from the Super Pit entered the shop and delightful characters walked out as all the imaginative kids created their works of art.. I made my own pet rock and named her Molly to show the kids what can be done. By the end of the week it was clear that all the kids were showing me a thing or two in the creativity department!"*said Louise Crogan, KCGM Community Relations Officer.

Participating businesses and the winners of the trail competitions continued the fun with the Presentation Sundowner held at the Goldfields War Museum on Thursday 26th April. Prizes were awarded and businesses were able to reflect on the overall success of the third trail since commencing in July 2006.

The efforts of Boulder businesses are the reason behind the success of the trail, providing goodies for the Boulder Show Bags and taking time out to offer activities at their already busy shops. The positive feedback from surveys completed by parents, demonstrates the fantastic enthusiasm with which businesses undertook participating in this community event.
